

Brave

They want you to think the world is unsafe
On the verge of exploding
Murders, wars and hate
Your daily ration of desperation

And to free you from this spiral of fear
They've got the perfect scheme ready
You just need to pay
And consume your whole life away

And it goes on and on
Till one day you fall
You feel powerless, your life seems so vain
You gotta shake this sinking feeling
Be brave and strong

Because you know, and I know, that there's no way to know
Tomorrow could be your last day so
You've got to live your life to the full

Be brave and get back on your feet

'Cause you know, and I know that there's no way to know
Tomorrow could be your last day so be brave!

They want you to think that life is unfair
No way you can change it
You gotta wake up my friend
And make things happen in your life

And it goes on and on
Till one day you fall
You feel powerless, your life seems so vain
You gotta shake this sinking feeling
Be brave and strong

Because you know, and I know, that there's no way to know
Tomorrow could be your last day so
You've got to live your life to the full
Be brave and get back on your feet

'Cause you know, and I know that there's no way to know
Tomorrow could be your last day so be brave!

The Dark Prophecy

The Wizard

In the dream he saw his village engulfed in flames,
Heard the screams of human torches blazing in the night

Red, evil eyes, see them scorching the skies
Destruction and grief
Commanded by the spell

The wizard and knights met at dawn, gazed into the ball
Saw the beast's lair, smelled its foul breath, conceived their strike
We've got to send the beast back to Hades

Then the wizard stood up and said:

Don't look the beast in the eye
For fear to be caught
Under a spell of fury and flames
Fight for your lives and for what you believe
Strike without mercy the sorcerer's beast
To put an end to this age of darkness

The Sorcerer

I'll char their kingdom of straw, put their lives to the torch
Conducting a symphony of screams, laments and pyre
For I have seen things man was not meant to know
The secrets of the dark side

And soon the world will be mine
My powers divine
The prophecy finally fulfilled
I'll reach new depths in the abyss of fear
I'll squeeze the land in my ironclad fist
Unleash the beast onto a kingdom of pain

From faraway countries they rode, swearing allegiance
For the fight of all fights, they all trusted the steel of their blades
And there, in the mouth of hell, the battle went on raging
They fought and fell to the last, victims of the dark prophecy

And the last thing he saw were those eyes of fire
